

Manufacturing Operators Needed

In today's global economy, the manufacturing industry must strive to remain current and successful against often overwhelming obstacles, including: rapid technology changes, greater competitiveness, increased customer demands coupled with the need to provide employable skills in the workplace.

To meet the challenges head on, the local manufacturing industry, Quinte Economic Development, and Loyalist College have partnered to design and deliver a 7-week manufacturing operator training program for local participation.

Applicants must have a Grade 12 Graduation Diploma and demonstrated mechanical aptitude. Previous production or manufacturing experience in a shiftwork environment would be a definite asset. Applicants must also have the capacity to perform physically demanding work. Selected candidates will be eligible for employment in local manufacturing and supply chain facilities.

All interested applicants may make inquiries at Loyalist College, Pioneer Building (Rm P47). Please bring a copy of your résumé, two work references, and fill out the required application form.
