Here's what our graduates have to say about our Human Services Management degree program:

I know that my degree was a contributing factor in my being hired. At Hastings's Children's Aid Society you have to have a degree to be hired in most positions. It was definitely a stepping stone for me.
Lisa Marie Mascherin

I have found that my degree is recognized with respect in the workforce and it was a contributing factor in my being hired.
Shannon Shewaga

I chose to stay home and raise my family so my resume had some time gaps. The Human Services Management degree includes a 14-week placement which gave me recent employment experience and contributed greatly to me being hired in my current position.
